METALLIC ELEMENTS

Cabinetry icon Charlie Smallbone's new design studio not only now has a name, but also a debut kitchen range. The Metallics Collection from Ledbury Studio, based on a kitchen shown at RHS Chelsea Flower Show in 2018, pictured, is a unique mix of contemporary and traditional, with individually aged copper and black-stained ash cabinetry set against details like ornate Georgian-inspired cockbead. The new showroom opens in Notting Hill, with kitchen prices starting from £50,000.

Wonderfully weird

Your kitchen is a space for you to enjoy, so why be so serious with the décor? This collection of slightly madcap kitchen accessories, a collaboration between the creative spirits at L'OBJET and the Haas brothers, can't help but put a smile on your face. Priced from £255 for the salt and pepper shakers.

MATERIAL GAINS

There's nothing more of the moment in design than marble and brass, and Eggersmann Kitchens has just incorporated styles of both into its UNIQUE range. Don't the grey-veined, marble-like Bianco Nuvola quartz and shimmering 3mm solid brushed brass, both £POA, make a very handsome couple?
