ULTIMATE KITCHENS

OCTOBER 2022

Inspiration

Sensational kitchen ideas from some of the world's leading designers

Warm colour

SUMMER THORNTON, PRINCIPAL, SUMMER THORNTON DESIGN

'The inspiration spawned from a bright red and chrome fire truck, but morphed to this ox-blood red for more sophistication,' explains Summer. The red inserts are teamed with lightly stained oak and dramatic marble countertops with plum tones, and the design completed with a vintage dining table. 'It feels strong and adds a dash of edginess to the room without overpowering the space,' she says. Summer's book Wonderland: Adventures in Decorating (£32.50, Rizzoli) is out now.

ULTIMATE KITCHENS

Perfect hideaway

CHARLIE SMALLBONE, FOUNDER, LEDBURY STUDIO

'The usual kitchen elements are hidden behind beautiful cupboard doors so it can easily switch from living to cooking,' says Charlie. Kitchens from £50,000.

Glorious marble

HELEN PARKER, CREATIVE DIRECTOR, DEVOL KITCHENS

'Bold Arabescato Corchia marble is tempered by our porcelain pendant lights,' says Helen. Kitchens from £25,000. Interior design by And Studio.

Luxury finish

ANDREW WARTNABY, SENIOR DESIGNER, MARTIN MOORE

'Luxurious materials make this New Deco design stand out,' says Andrew. 'The mantel is wrapped in leathered faux snakeskin, set off with satin brass inlays.' Kitchens from £45,000.

ULTIMATE KITCHENS

worktops in unusual shapes. Composed of minerals, acrylic and natural pigments, the result is a smooth, non-porous, durable and visually seamless surface, available in a choice of colours and looks.

H. MILLER BROS

'No two kitchens are ever the same,' say award-winning furniture maker Hugh Miller and his architect and landscape designer brother Howard of their offering. Designs are contemporary and custom made from hardwood with finishes mixed individually for each client.

JACK TRENCH

Co-director Jack Trench set up his London-based company in 2003 to specialise in bespoke kitchens and furniture, made in north London and displayed in the firm's Clerkenwell showroom. Clean lines, thoughtful details and imaginative use of materials make the cabinetry stand out.

LACANCHE

High quality French range cookers in classic styles have earned Lacaniche a loyal following, who rely on their solid, built-to-last quality and reputation for professional performance and versatility. Cookers are still handmade in the Burgundian village of Lacaniche, where they have been produced for 250 years.

LANSERRING

Brothers Bernd and Johann Radaschitz run the Austrian-based business founded by their great grandfather in 1923. Today, from showrooms in New York, Vienna and Notting Hill, and a state-of-the-art workshop in Riegersburg, a stone's throw from the original site, the company produces luxury design-led kitchens and furniture for clients around the world.

LEDBURY STUDIO

As the founder of Smallbone of Devizes more than 40 years ago, Charlie Smallbone knows a thing or two about kitchen design. Now he employs his one-of-a-kind experience with artistic vision, creating contemporary designs that blend the beauty of original materials with functionality.

LUNDHS REAL STONE

Natural stones Larvikite and Anorthosite are quarried in Norway and offered by Lundhs as a collection of hard, heat- and stain-resistant worktops. They need no sealing or ongoing maintenance.

MARAZZI

One of the industry leaders in ceramic and porcelain for floor and wall tiles, Marazzi also produces incredible stone-effect solid surfaces.

MARTIN MOORE

Directors Richard and Michael Moore now run the classic English kitchen company founded by their parents, Martin and Barbara, in 1975. Particularly adept at balancing traditional craftsmanship with the design demands of modern lifestyles, the company produces its elegant and expertly made kitchens in its Yorkshire facility.

MIELE

'Immer Besser' or 'Forever Better' has long been the driving force behind the continual development of new products at this German premium appliance manufacturer. It has a history dating back to 1899 and a world leading reputation for high quality, reliable and innovative cooking, dishwashing, refrigeration and laundry products, most of which come with a 20-year guarantee.
